SAFETY OF PUBLIC BUILDINGS.

Mr. Holman Says a Report Is Necessary for Congress to Act.

Families of Ford's Theatre Victima Likely to Be Recompensed.

WASHINGTON, June 15 .- Mr. Holnan, Chairman of the House Committee on Appropriations, said this morning that he believed Congress had in the past and would in the future deal liberally in the matter of providing safe ubile buildings, and enact such legislation as would look to the preservation Concerning the Government Printing Office, Mr. Holman said Congress was practically a unit in its willingness to appropriate money for a new and suitable building. The trouble up to this time has been in securing a site. The matter had not, he said, been brought to the attention of the House by resolu-tion or otherwise since the Fifty-first longress, but was in the hands of the tion or otherwise since the Fifty-first Congress, but was in the hands of the Joint Committee on Printing.

Mr. Holman is of the opinion that under the joint resolution passed Peb. 8, 1883, the Public Printer has full authority to lessen the weight on the floors of his building by removing stuff afti occupying other buildings. The resolution directs the Public Printer to forthwith remove from the Government Printing Office so much of the property of the United States in the upper stories as shall in his opinion and in the opinion of the architect of the Capitol remove the building entirely safe for the persons emplayed therein.

"Congressmen are not building experts," said Mr. Holman, "and if an official report had been made, Congress would have had something to go on.

'After the city Post-Office, the next public building to be provided by Congress will be a Hall of Records, and this will relieve many of the present buildings. There are many public records that have to be stored where they can be reached, notably among them the e of the General Land Office, Such a building will relieve all the departments of an immense amount of trash, and be a vast saving of room.

"While this talk of safer public building is before the public, it should be remembered that there are now two under way that when finished, will accommodate fully 8,800 clerks. The city Post-Office will only occupy the basement and first floor of that building, and Supervising Architect Windrim estimated that the building would accommodate, besides the Post-Office, 3,000 clerks.

"The new Library Building will be completed in four years and will be

The new Library Building will be upleted in four years and will be Builling."

Returning to the Ford's Theatre disaster. Mr. Holman said he supposed that the matter would come before Congress in the shape of bills for the relief of the victims, and he was sure that Congress would do what was right. He was confident that some way would be found to recompense, so far as any recompense could be made, the families of the victims. NEW PUBLICATIONS.
